

Financial Services Guide

Financial Services Guide v01/07/21 Issued 1st July 2021.

This guide contains important information about:

- The services we offer you
- How we, our licensee and our associates are paid
- The associations or relationships we have with financial product issuers
- Our internal and external dispute resolution procedures and how you access them

Lack of Independence Disclosure Notice:

Due to legislative changes, we are unable to call ourselves independent. Here's why:

The Law makes it exceedingly difficult for most advisers to say that they are independent, unbiased, or impartial, even if they are not in any way linked to a financial product provider (such as a bank).

If, for example, an adviser receives a commission to help a client arrange insurance, then they are automatically prohibited from calling themselves independent. Most advisers who receive those commissions charge their clients, if anything, very little for the advice/help they provide by putting a policy into place. From time to time, we receive these commissions.

Therefore, although at Moneyclip our clients come first, with us always putting your interests before our own when giving advice, we cannot (by law) call ourselves independent, unbiased, or impartial.

How Do I Pay for Moneyclip Private Wealth Advice?

As part of detailed financial planning, there are costs to you at various stages of the process. Before making any recommendations, the Financial Adviser will discuss and agree the fees with you.

Advice fees are inclusive of GST and payable by you at the following stages:

- 1) Recommendation: For having a personalised financial plan ('SoA') prepared, a plan preparation fee ranging from $1,995 to $25,000 is payable. The actual fee will depend on the complexity of your situation and the time it takes to prepare personal financial advice for you.
- 2) Implementation: Financial Advisers may charge a placement fee and/or implementation fee to implement the recommendations in your financial plan. These are payable when you decide to proceed with the implementation of any one or more recommendations provided to you. The actual fee will depend on the complexity of your situation and the amount of funds invested, but will not exceed a range from $110 (min.) to $5,500 (max.)
- 3) Ongoing Advice Service and Reviews: If you choose to have a Financial Adviser conduct a review of your financial plan to ensure that your financial strategies and financial products remain appropriate to you, you may be charged a review fee. If you choose to have a Financial Adviser provide an ongoing advice service, you may be charged a fee ranging from $1,995 to $27,500 and/or up to 2% p.a. of total funds under management.

Where a placement fee and/or implementation fee is charged, a Financial Adviser may rebate all or part of the initial commissions and/or ongoing commissions received from a product issuer, by way of an increase in your investment amount.

Where a Financial Adviser receives an initial commission and/or ongoing commission amount, they may rebate all or part of the implementation and/or placement fee to you.

Commission for Life Risk Insurance Products:

- Where a Financial Adviser arranges an insurance product for you, the relevant insurer will pay Moneyclip Private Wealth an initial commission. The rate of commission is between 0% and 66% and is calculated as a percentage of the annual premium you pay.
- Annual commission will also be paid when you renew your policy each year. The rate of ongoing commission is between 0% and 33% of the annual premium.

Note: Full details of all fees and commissions for financial services will be provided to you in a Statement of Advice ('SoA'), or Record of Advice ('RoA') and Product Disclosure Statements at the time of receiving any recommendation.

How Can You Give Us Instructions?

You may tell us how you would like to give us instructions. For example, by telephone, fax or other means such as e-mail.

What Information Should You Provide to Receive Personalised Advice?

You need to provide us with a list of your personal objectives, details of your current financial situation and any relevant information, so that we can offer you the most appropriate advice possible.

You have the right not to tell us, if you do not wish to. However, if you do not, the advice you receive may not be appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial situation.

We are also legally required to verify your identity, so we will ask to see your passport, driver's license or other identity documents. You should read the warnings contained in the SoA carefully before making any decision relating to financial products.

Other Documents You Will Be Given If You Receive Advice from Us

When we or our Authorised Representatives give you financial advice you will be provided with a SoA which will contain details about:

- the advice provided, including the basis on which it was given
- fees, commissions and other benefits
- any associations we have with Financial Product Issuers or other parties which may have influenced the advice we give you.

After receiving our initial advice, a RoA may be produced and retained by us or our Authorised Representative instead of an SoA if there have been no significant changes in your personal circumstances or the basis of the advice since the last SoA was provided. You can request a copy of any RoA at any time.

If we recommend to you a particular Financial Product, we will give you a Product Disclosure Statement to help you make an informed decision.

What Information Do We Maintain in Your File and Can You Examine It?

We will retain copies of your identity documents and we will maintain a record of your personal profile including details of your objectives, financial situation and needs. We also maintain records of any recommendations made to you, including the initial SoA, and any subsequent Statements of Additional Advice and RoA provided to clients receiving our ongoing service. Copies of these can be requested either verbally or in writing.

We are committed to ensuring the privacy and security of your personal information. A copy of the relevant privacy policy is available on our licensee's website or by contacting us. If you wish to examine your file, please ask us. We will make arrangements for you to do so in our office.
